

Speaker 1: If you're watching this, you're ready to get started on getting back to living life on your own terms again. So what I'm going to do is I'm going to walk you through what to expect with treatment, what it's going to be like, what it's going to feel like, everything that you need to know and all the questions that you have. Of course, if you still have questions after watching this video, feel free to ask your provider or anyone in the office, because we're here to help you and make sure you have those questions answered.

Your treatment will start off with a vitamin blend injection that really helps to heal those nerves. Typically, people don't feel this much at all. If anything, it'll feel like a glucose test, like a little prick or something like that. And if you actually start to feel it more over time, that means that the nerves are healing and that does happen sometimes. And you might feel it more several treatments in or a few weeks in than you did on your first day.

After your vitamin blend injection, you'll actually get put on the electrical stimulation that helps to increase the circulation that actually brings that nutrients deep into the tissues and to the nerves where it needs to go. This will feel kind of like a light tingling sensation. Again, not everybody even feels this when they first start treatment. Most patients will start to feel it a little bit more as treatment goes on and that's a good thing. That means that the nerves are starting to wake up and that you're starting to get more sensation. Either way, this is a very comfortable treatment, very relaxing. Notice these patients. They just sit back and relax. You could even take a nap if you wanted to.

Your provider will monitor your progress as you go, making sure that you're getting the results that you came for and tweaking any treatment as needed. You might move from two to three times a week, or from 30 minutes to 45 minutes. Different things like that, that they can do to make sure that you're getting the results you came here for.

Now, I want to let you listen to Kevin's story and he's going to actually tell you about how he's been doing. And he's only been doing treatment for about a week and a half when we took this video and he's doing phenomenally already. Let's listen in.

Kevin: I can move further than what I've ever walked around. Yesterday, when I left here, went to bridge and went home and then I went and mowed two and a half acres of land.

Speaker 3: Yeah, that's fantastic.

Kevin: Yeah, I got off the home mower. I felt just as good as gold. And like I said, my hands are more flexible and not... Before, I couldn't drive from here to home without my thumb and my fingers cramping on the steering wheel. Now, I don't have a problem. To me, what's happened in the last week and a half has been a mind changing about getting around.

Speaker 1: Now, Kevin's just getting started with his treatment, so we expect him to make even more progress. And we want you to have the same success that Kevin and others have had, which is why we're using this proven process to get you the results that you came here for.

Now, depending on what your recommendations are, the front desk is going to help you schedule about two or three visits a week, and they're going to help you fit that around all your other appointments and scheduling conflicts. They're going to make sure it works out for you at a convenient time.

I hope this answered some of your questions and we look forward to getting you back to living life on your own terms again.
